VOL. 7.

NOGALES, PIMA COUNTY, ARIZONA, SATURDAY, MARCH 11, 1899.

No. 10.

BRIEF ITEMS.

Sol Levi, the popular Tucson drummer, was in the border city Wednesday.

O. B. Hardy, the mining man, was in Nogales this week on mining business.

J. S. Tebbets, the Duquesne mining man, came in on Tuesday morning's train.

H. B. Hall of Los Angeles, was registered at the Montezuma this week.

Captain Milton, Geo. Kubns and Luke Smith left Wednesday afternoon on a prospecting tour.

Mr. Frank Evans, the traveling groceryman, was in Nogales this week from Los Angeles, looking up trade for his house.

Councilman Schoonmaker, who has been in the east, has been sent for, on account of the serious illness of his little boy.

John Urrera, the popular head-waiter at Cazaban's restaurant, was confined to his room the forepart of the week. It was the grip.

W. B. Hunt, of San Francisco, representing "Schilling's Best," was in Nogales this week on business. He stopped at the Montezuma.

Mrs. W. S. Bowman, wife of agent Bowman at Hermosillo, came up to the border city last Tuesday on a visit to her friend Mrs. E. J. Gibson.

A. Orilla, one of Tucson's brightest lawyers, after a week's visit in Sonora on business, passed through Nogales last Sunday en route to the old pueblo.

J. B. Franco, the grocery man, went to Hermosillo Tuesday on business for Franco Bros. grocery house in Nogales, Sonora, of which he is junior member.

The new bridge across the arroyo for which the city funds furnished the material and E. B. Hogan did the rest, is a great convenience to our people and is a commendable city improvement.

Mr. E. Wolf, proprietor of the Bellevue hotel, returned from Cripple Creek, Colorado, last Monday. Mr. Wolf has large property interests in Cripple Creek and says the big camp is booming. He will remain in Nogales a few days.

The barbecue at the "Palace" Monday night was a big success and those in attendance pronounced Hambo & Brock model entertainers. Ed. Sumnerfield and Harry Pelton, were very much in evidence and saw that the guests wanted for nothing.

Hon. Sam F. Webb, ex-collector of customs at this port, now business manager of the Phoenix Gazette after several days' sojourn in the border city on business for his paper, returned Monday to the capital city.

Manager Jos. Pascholy of the Nogales Water company says he has a big force of men at work digging ditches and laying pipe lines in and about the city. The company will by the first of April be able to supply water to every body.

Don Manuel Mascareñas, consul at Nogales, Arizona, for Mexico, after a two month's visit in the City of Mexico and other places of interest in our sister republic returned to Nogales Monday morning. Consul Mascareñas reports having had a delightful outing.

Lieutenant Richard Fleischer, traveling representative of Las Dos Naciones Cigar company, who has been on the road for his firm the past two months, returned last Sunday morning. The lieutenant is one of the best salesmen on the road, and during his trip he completely swayed Las Dos Naciones big force of workmen under with the big orders he sent in. Fleck is popular and makes friends wherever he goes. His right arm has been shaken so often since he returned to Nogales that we suggest he put it in a sling in order to save it for another home-coming.

The Liar and the Thief.

Lying is of all mean traits of character the most despicable. This is the crying sin of the age, that men do not value their word. If a man steals and is caught, the world brands him a thief and shuns him; he can never overtake it; but if he lies, though it may be proven, he is still respectable, and if he profits by the lie, he is esteemed specially clever and smart. But the thief is not near so dangerous to society as the liar. We can protect ourselves against thieves, we can guard our possessions, but the liar can penetrate the strongest fortress and blast the most precious of our possessions. He can go in court and rob and murder at will. He can blast a life or ruin a fortune and there is no redress.—Spartanburg Herald.

ARIZONA NEWS.

El Paso Times.

A bill has been introduced in the assembly making eight hours a day's labor for miners.

The legislature propose to soon start in with night sessions in order to get through its work.

Several parties interested in mining deals have gone to Casas Grandes, Mexico from Phoenix.

A great many are still sick with the grip around Bisbee and several cases have proved fatal.

The turfmen of Tucson propose to hold another racing matinee in that city on the 11th of the month.

It is said that 73 of the Moqui Indians have recently died with smallpox. They were all from Navajo county.

Bisbee has a social organization known as the "Silver Dollar club," which is giving a series of public entertainments.

A strong movement is on foot to induce the legislature to make liberal appropriations for the territorial university.

Representative citizens from different parts of the territory are in Phoenix urging the passage of the bill against trusts.

A company of Louisville capitalists has been organized to develop several promising copper prospects in Yuma county.

R. L. Long, territorial superintendent of public instruction, has received his commission and entered upon the duties of his office.

Two new buildings have been completed at Bisbee, and it is said that several more will be erected in the near future.

The sale of building lots at Naco has been stopped by W. T. McKernan, who has filed on the townsite and warned all persons to buy at their peril.

It is said that during the month of January there were more mining properties sold in Pima county than during any one month for the last three years.

It is stated that there is considerable demand for Tucson property by southern California people who are being driven out of that state by the severe drought.

The legislature has been asked to enact a law looking to the more careful inspection of cattle and prevent the introduction of diseased animals from other sections of the country.

Heavy shipments of ore are now being made from the Washington mining camp, and all the teams in that vicinity are being employed in hauling ore from that camp to the railroad at Crittenden.

It is reported that there will be heavy shipments of cattle from California to Arizona during the next few months. This is owing to the lack of rain in California and consequently a scarcity of feed.

A negro resident of Phoenix sued a Chinese restaurant keeper for refusing him credit for a meal, claiming that the refusal injured his reputation. The case has been decided against the plaintiff, but he has taken an appeal.

In the United States land office at Tucson forty original homestead entries were made during February and forty-four during January, which is more than the records of the office showed for any previous month since 1888.

THE MAMMOTH MINE.

Its Stamp Mill to be Operated by Electric Power.

Says the Arizona Republican: "The Mammoth mine will soon be equipped with the largest electrical plant of any mining property in the world," said George H. Blair, manager of the mine, at the Adams last night. "The Mammoth is a low-grade proposition and the success or failure of the work depends upon how cheaply it can be run. Of course, the mine is a money-maker and has been all its history, but the returns have not been what they should have been for the money invested. At present we are running fifty stamps and a cyanide plant for the tailings. There are over 150 tons of the old tailings which are also being run through the cyanide plant. With the concentrating from the stamps and the cyaniding practically all the gold is now secured.

"But the question of fuel has been all-important. All the wood we can get has to be hauled twenty miles and upward and it costs us $150 a day for fuel.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

To obviate this enormous drain the company has arranged to put in an electric plant on Arivaipa Creek, fifteen miles from the mine and transmit electric power over copper wire to run the stamps. The plant will be one of the most powerful in the country for not only will it supply power for the fifty stamps now in operation, but for fifty more to be put in at once, making a total of one hundred, for the Mammoth, and we will furnish power to the Mohawk mine of thirty stamps a few miles away, so you can see it will be something of a power plant to run 130 stamp.

Lights, both arc and incandescent, will be furnished for the mills and towns of Mammoth and Schultz, one town being at the mine and other at the mills three miles distant. What the saving will be by utilizing this water power and transforming it to electric, can be judged by the fact that it will save the Mammoth mine $30,000 a year in fuel charges alone.

"We have one of the largest steel wire tramways in use in the West, it being three miles long. Ore is transported over this tramway in steel buckets to the mill, three miles from the mine and water-carried back on the return trip, so that all the energy is utilized. How many men have we at work? Over one hundred now and with the additional stamps will nearly double the force. I believe that the Mammoth is one of the greatest, if not the greatest, gold propositions in Arizona.

"And in this connection I want to say a word for Arizona in general as a mining section. I first came to the territory to put in the tramway, seventeen months ago. I had mined in Colorado for years, and like others in that State had a very poor opinion of Arizona as a mining section. That opinion has undergone a material change and I now believe this territory to be one of the greatest mineral districts in America. The London owners of the Mammoth are highly pleased with what has been done in the last year and are showing their faith in the continuation of the property as a money-maker by making all the extensive improvements of which I have just told you. Visit us six months from now and we will show you the largest milling plant in Arizona, operated by the West."

WADE HAMPTON'S FEAT.

Octogenarian and Crippled he Extinguished a Fire on his Roof.

Columbia, S. C., March 5.—Though General Wade Hampton, one of the few surviving lieutenant-generals of the confederacy, is within a few days of celebrating his eighty-first birthday, he performed a characteristic feat a few mornings ago, showing that he has lost none of his old time dash and courage. His feat was indeed very much like that of Wheeler at Santiago, though more difficult of performance by reason of the fact that the aged warrior has a cork leg, and had no tree limbs to aid him.

It was yet very early in the morning when one of the servants at Ger. Hampton's residence, near the city, came to him and informed him that sparks had fallen upon and ignited the roof of the house, which was then burning. The old general, without permitting any of the household to be awakened, hastened out and himself proceeded to climb upon the roof. Reaching the blaze, he, with the assistance of his servant, managed to extinguish the flames. It was not until the breakfast hour that any of the household were aware of the fire or of the aged soldier's risky, but effective climb upon the roof.

The incident was known to but few of the general's friends until today, and they are as proud of his feat as of any of those daring charges he led during the civil war.

The above press dispatch taken from the Phoenix Republican of March 6th will be of interest to THE BORDER WIDETTE readers on account of the fact that General Wade Hampton, of whom it speaks, is the father of Lieutenant Alfred Hampton of the customs service at the port of Nogales.

A Welcomed Visitor.

Mr. C. C. Copland of Libertyville, Ill., arrived in the city Saturday to visit some friends. Mr. Copland first visited Tucson in 1879 when he came by stage from Maricopa, the terminus of the S. P. R. R. at that time. He was then on mining business, and became interested in some property in the Santa Rita mountains which he developed and had patented, although taking little interest in them since.

Mr. Copland has been highly favored by fortune and has one of the most beautiful country homes at Libertyville, comprising several hundred acres of farms and woodlands and meadows comprising 100 acres which is traversed by a small river. He lives at ease with visiting friends about. He is a literary and ethical writer of marked ability, a character as strongly individualized as it is severe and calm. His time and fortune is directed to helping others. Mr. Copland is a warm personal friend of D. M. Riordan and family of our city. He will remain in Tucson several days. The Star extends to our distinguished visitor and friend a most cordial greeting and wish him a most enjoyable visit in our city of health and every climatic virtue.—Star.
